PROCEDURES WHEN ORDERING FROZEN AND CHILLED SEMEN 2021.

Choosing artificial insemination to breed your mare is just one of your choices to be made but what happens when you have to order the semen? The following guidelines have been designed for the client to understand how your order will be handled and what you, as the client will be expected to do. To start the procedure firstly, if applicable you must inform your vet so that he/she can carry out a pre-breeding assessment of your mare to insure that artificial insemination with frozen or chilled semen is a viable option. Secondly you are required to complete the order form and return it to Hall O Coole Stud, accompanied with full payment PRIOR to dispatch of the semen.

All of our semen is based at a main storage facility in Whitchurch, Shropshire in the UK. You will have three chances at getting your mare in foal and should she not be in foal by October 1st of that breeding year, then you will have a further three chances the following season, as long as she has been inseminated three times. The nominations are non transferable and can only apply to the mare for which they were accepted. Under extremely special circumstances and by prior agreement only, this term may be waived. It is important that our office receive the semen order forms in advance of when you plan on breeding so that it can be processed and payment cleared PRIOR to semen being dispatched to the insemination site or veterinary practice. It is also important you ensure your vet has insurance which will cover the storage of your semen as it will no longer be covered by our insurance once it reaches its destination. This is something to be aware of should a flask accidentally run dry of liquid nitrogen or some accident occur rendering the semen useless. Only one covering certificate per semen purchase will be issued, unless prior agreement has been sought. Under no circumstances will retrospective covering certificates be issued.

Your Semen purchase only entitles you to one pregnancy and all unused straws remain the property of Hall O Coole Stud and should be stored in the standard manner and conditions to maintain their life cycle until such times as they may be collected for reuse. Often if you have residual doses, an agreement can be reached to purchase these straws for another insemination at a slightly reduced rate, this arrangement can not be retrospective, any retrospective requests will be denied and recompense will be sought, please contact us for further information.

Hall O Coole Stud can not be held responsible for any consequential losses for your mare not becoming pregnant for any reason.
